Lue & Perez supports serious B2B buyers sourcing, consolidating, documenting, packaging, and moving Caribbean food products into export markets with stronger commercial and operating clarity.

BUYER TYPES

Importers, distributors, retail programs, private label, and foodservice buyers

MARKETS SERVED

North America, UK/EU, Middle East, and CARICOM

PRODUCT HANDLING

Ambient, chilled, and frozen operating models

CORE SCOPE

Sourcing, consolidation, export logistics, packaging, and private label support

What buyers usually need help with

- Testing whether supplier capability, MOQ logic, packaging, and market fit actually align
- Reducing fragmentation across sourcing, documentation, consolidation, and freight handoffs
- Protecting shelf-life, cold-chain integrity, and commercial usability at destination
- Moving private-label concepts into repeatable, export-ready programs

Typical engagement starting points

- Destination market, product scope, target volume, and launch timing
- Packaging, labeling, certifications, and cold-chain requirements
- Export-readiness questions that could delay quote, launch, or replenishment
